Players with 'shaded' records participated (and their career concluded) while arranged matches were played (prior to competition cricket commencing in 1913/14) i.e., the seasons from 1882/83 to 1913/14 and again in 1920/21 which, on resumption from the World War I recess, was also played as an arranged match season.

Players with 'shaded' records participated in the most recently completed season

Players with 'shaded' records participated in 100 or more matches

** Subject to additional verification – recent seasons and Veterans detailed records (including Catches & Stumpings by a Wicket keeper) between 1998/99 and 2004/05, which are yet to be added in their entirety to the overall playing Database.

These career statistics also include records for players who represented the localities, then known as Scoresby and Ferntree Gully in the earliest arranged matches, prior to the initial establishment of the Ferntree Gully Cricket Club in 1882/83. These records are derived from matches played in the 1879/80, 1880/81 and 1881/82 seasons.

For competition seasons between 1913/14 and 1960 (approx.) not all Balls Bowled, Maidens and fieldsmen involved in dismissals have been recorded, which may reflect on individual career records in this era. Beyond 1960 (approx..) the Club retains almost every scorebook from every season, and where these are missing figures have been compiled from available other material, i.e. Newspapers, Annual Reports, previous versions of Player Statistics etc.
