

BATTED THROUGH THE INNINGS

Some Matches/Innings end with an opening batsman not out as the team bats all day, and its innings is compulsorily closed. Technically, if he is the 10th dismissal, he has batted through the Innings also. In recording this achievement at an international cricket level, normally these examples are NOT recorded as Batting through an innings.

For consistency with this standard, the table below represents performances at the FTGCC where an opening batsman batted the entire innings and remained NOT OUT at the fall of his teams 10th and final wicket i.e. the batsman opened the batting and remained NOT OUT when all the other ten batsmen in the team were dismissed.

NOTES:

1. No instance has occurred where an opening batsman has batted through the entire innings in the 6th XI
2. % is the percentage of runs the NOT OUT batsman made from the overall team total (Tot)
3. According to notes compiled for R.J. (Bob) DeCoite's 80th Birthday celebrations (2002), he batted through the innings on five separate occasions, while L.W. (Bill) Dinsdale & W.H. (Wal Tew) were also identified as having achieved the feat three times. With scorebook records from the late 1940's & early 1950's incomplete, only the occasions where their performances have been verified have been recorded in the table above
4. On 6/2/1915, G.J. (George) Williams also scored 114* in the match against Doncaster East while batting at number three (first drop). He came to the wicket at 1/0 on the third ball of the innings and batted the remaining overs in the completed innings, remaining not out and scoring 59% of the team's total of 197.
